

Name: Emily Parke Chase

One sentence that describes me and my writing: My goal is to make the unseen God visible through my characters, whether fictional or non-fictional.

Brief bio: Emily Parke Chase has published six non-fiction books with traditional publishers and two novels indie. Originally an archaeologist who excavated a 1000-year old temple in Laos, Emily shifted to counseling people, teaching Bible and writing a series of books for young people on hot issues like abortion, adoption, and homosexuality.

Why I write: My characters struggle with real issues such as sexual assault, miscarriage, persecution, and murder. They have doubts about God's character and confusion about His plan for their lives. And like me, they find God faithful.

I write:

Fiction: ☒ short stories ☒ books Genres: historical

Nonfiction: ☒ articles ☒ personal experience stories ☒ devotions ☒ books Genres: relationship issues

Other: ☐ poetry ☐ scripts

My audience ☒ Christians ☒ general public ☒ women ☐ men ☒ teens ☐ children

I'm currently working on: I am writing a series of novels about Matthew, Mark, Luke and John in the process of writing their gospels.

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is: What a joy when God sits by my side as I write, prompting me to include details and plot twists I never imagined but which become integral to the thread of the book!
