One sentence that describes me and my writing: I need to get the word out about the Lord's soon return.

Brief bio: I have served children and women all my career as a church planting missionary in Taiwan since 1983. After raising five children, I finally got my master's degree, graduating with a Masters in Worship from the Conservative Baptist Seminary in Taiwan. While there my deep desire to understand Bible prophecy and the study of the book of Revelation led me to beginning the writing of my end times novel—TILL THE RAPTURE DO US PART. My husband and I founded and lead a non-profit serving church planters along the resistant west coast of Taiwan called Taiwan Harvest 119. We pray and work towards a church for every thousand people and try to connect churches with needed personnel and resources. I love to write Taiwan Sagas highlighting the people and culture of Taiwan. Taiwan is still very needy spiritually, and our desire is to recruit more missionaries for the evangelism and discipleship of the people of Taiwan. God's Spirit is on the move, and we are experiencing miracles as thousands on island practice divine healing regularly in public places, leading many to faith in Christ. Glory to God! It's a great time to be a missionary in Taiwan.

Why I write: To express the burden God puts on my heart; to help people come to know God.

I write:

Fiction: ☒ short stories ☒ books Genres:

Nonfiction: ☐ articles ☒ personal experience stories ☒ devotions ☐ books Genres:

I'm currently working on: My second novel concerning life under the millennial reign of Christ—*Earthlings and Saints. I published my evotional recently—Getting Ready: Till He Comes Again Devotional-- in May 2026, and will be busy writing for the next book of devotionals in the Till He Comes Again Series. Also, am working on publishing my first novel in Chinese...exploring publishing houses, though I might end up self-publishing with their help marketing in Taiwan.

My greatest joy and/or struggle in writing is: fleshing out the plot and characters in advance.
