Week 1 of Life
3rd week pregnant*

Human life starts at fertilization. Genetic evidence for gender appears in 5 to 7 days. Tests can confirm.

Baby is about the size of this period.

Week 2 of Life
4th week pregnant

The baby's body and yolk sac form. One job the yolk sac does is make the baby's blood cells until the bones can.

.2 mm
10mm = 1cm

Week 3 of Life
5th week pregnant

The human heart begins to beat. Ultrasound can record it. Baby is the size of a mustard seed from crown/head to rump.

1/16" = 1.5 mm
CR

Week 4 of Life
6th week pregnant

Head, spine, and body parts are forming. Baby's heartbeat is steady. Baby is the size of a sesame seed or a small grain of wheat.

1/4" = 6 mm CR

Week 5 of Life
7th week pregnant

Baby's head, eyes, mouth, arms, legs, and spine are visible. The brain forms. Skin melanin production begins. Baby is appleseed size.

3/8" = 1 cm CR

Week 5.5 of Life
7.5th week pregnant

Baby's hands and fingers are growing. The tiny embryo—that which grows/young one, is the size of a pumpkin seed. An average pregnancy lasts 40 weeks.

9/16" = 1.4 cm CR

Week 6 of Life 8th week pregnant

Baby's brain waves can be recorded. Baby's brain controls baby's movements. Baby is the size of a gummy bear.

3/4" = 1.9 cm CR

Week 7 of Life
9th week pregnant

Baby's lips can feel a touch. Baby's features and expressions start to resemble the family's. Ultrasound can show baby is moving. Baby is the size of a grape.

1" = 2.5 cm CR

Week 8 of Life 10th week pregnant

Every organ is now present. Little one is a complete tiny baby with a full skeleton. Kidney functions begin.
